

AMERICAN SOCIETY ON AGING PRESENTS OUR

2005 AUTUMN SERIES ON AGING

Continuing Education for Professionals Who Work With Older Adults and Their Family Members

East Coast – Philadelphia
September 12–15, 2005

West Coast – San Francisco
September 26–29, 2005

The Autumn Series on Aging offers regional training for professionals in many different sectors of society who work with older adults, their caregivers and their families. It is an excellent opportunity to earn continuing education credits while gaining new knowledge and insights from experts in the field.

Participants at the Autumn Series can choose from 50 or more half- or full-day intensives in a variety of subjects, offering them a number of key advantages:

In-Depth Training

ASA Autumn Series training is focused and highly practical. The presenters discuss issues of importance to you and teach skills that you can take back to the workplace and put to practical use.

Nationally and Regionally Known Presenters

Autumn Series sessions are led by regional and national experts in the field of aging, who bring their knowledge and insights to the intensives to spark an exciting exchange of ideas and perspectives.

Convenience and Cost Effectiveness

You choose the sessions that best fit your needs and interests. Since you pay only for each intensive you attend, you can make the most of your time and training dollars.

Visit the Autumn Series Website at:

www.asaging.org/autumn-series

Who Should Attend?

- Academics & Clinical Educators
- Administrators & Directors
- Adult Daycare Personnel
- Activity & Recreation Therapists
- APS Workers & Ombudsmen
- Attorneys
- Care/Case Managers
- Clergy and Pastoral Care Providers
- Conservators & Guardians
- Financial Services Professionals
- Home Healthcare Personnel
- Marriage & Family Therapists
- Nurses
- Nursing Assistants
- Physicians
- Policy Makers & Planners
- Psychologists
- Rehabilitation Therapists
- Social Workers
- Staff Developers
- Students

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT IS AVAILABLE FOR A NUMBER OF PROFESSIONS

Choose from over 50 half- and full-day intensives in the following subject areas:

- Behavioral Healthcare & Aging
- Care Management
- Clinical & Healthcare Issues
- Creative Aging
- Dementia Care
- Diversity Issues
- End-of-Life Issues
- Family & Caregiving Issues
- Health Promotion & Wellness
- Leadership & Organizational Development
- Legal & Ethical Issues
- Public Policy Issues
- Religion, Spirituality & Aging
- And Other Special Hot Topics

In addition to the valuable intensives offered, the Autumn Series will offer the following special features:

Creative Aging offerings, special sessions that focus on the application of creative theory and creative expression in order to promote quality of life and optimal mental and physical health for all older adults no matter what their setting.

Free Lunchtime offerings, including the ASA Renewal Room, Learning Corridor and Featured Films on Aging. Daily mini-lectures on topics from policy, family, neurodegenerative disease and diversity will be offered at the East Coast Autumn Series.

To request a catalog or more information, please contact ASA at (800) 537-9728, ext.9675 or e-mail brucep@asaging.org; or visit the Autumn Series website at www.asaging.org/autumn-series.

