

Cultivate your leadership skills and expand your networks at ASA's 2019 Leadership Institute.

The ASA Leadership Institute is a five-day leadership development intensive that offers self-assessments of communication and leadership styles, presentations by recognized leaders in the field of aging, facilitated dialogue, networking opportunities, leadership literature and online learning. Program components are carefully designed to prepare the next generation of leaders in the field of aging. The program is offered primarily onsite in New Orleans from April 14-18, 2019 but also includes pre-intensive activities.

Understanding the context of a leader's work is vital. This program focuses on understanding and embracing cultural differences in a way that respects aging adults. Graduates will leave the Leadership Institute with a broad exposure to key influencers and with multiple opportunities to stay connected with other bright professionals who aspire to be their best.

Successful Participants

This unique leadership development opportunity is open to all professionals in the field of aging who have at least three years' experience and a strong interest in building personal leadership skills and capabilities, including effectiveness in current or future professional positions. Once successfully enrolled, participants will complete two online individualized assessments, based on the Everything DiSC[®] learning model, pre-reading assignments, and participate in an online web seminar.

Participants also learn about ASA member educational and networking opportunities across various platforms (website, web seminar, podcast, online courses, and social media). Orientation and all other activities will be conducted onsite at the 2019 Aging in America Conference. Full participation is required to successfully complete the program and earn the Leadership Institute Certificate of Completion and available CE credits.

Benefits to Attendees and Their Organizations

- An increased self-awareness of your leadership style, a keen understanding of how your style can complement or clash with others' styles, and an understanding of how to adjust to fit the needs of the people you manage.
- Mastery of approaches to working effectively in multicultural and ethnically diverse organizations and communities to influence positive change.
- Substantive insights into the leadership styles and experiences of visionaries, policy makers, change agents and influencers who have had significant impact in the aging field—a professional network of colleagues.
- Participants who successfully complete this program receive an ASA Leadership Institute Program Certificate, helpful in securing future promotions or advanced employment positions.
- Earn up to 7.5 CE credits from participation in Aging in America Conference programs.

Program Objectives

- Identify major shifts in the field of aging, including the impact of changing demographics, culture, policy, technological and other factors on leaders and diverse communities;
- Describe the importance of leading a multicultural, inclusive team of professionals who reflect diverse views and opinions;
- Learn from successful leaders who have worked across boundaries and silos, and have surmounted barriers to solve small and big issues, creating sustained improvement;
- Identify resources to serve the growing cohort of diverse elders facing a spectrum of health, racial, economic and other disparities;
- Build a more expansive and robust professional peer network with which you will share resources, ideas and helpful information in future years.

Managing to Lead with Style (lunch on your own)

This program uses online pre-work, engaging facilitation, and contemporary video to create a personalized learning experience. Using DiSC®, a simple and intuitive learning model, participants will discover their preferred behavioral style and will learn to adjust to the style needs of staff members when directing, delegating, motivating and developing them. They will also learn to influence and communicate more effectively with their bosses, by modifying their approach in order to meet those bosses' needs and preferences. The result: leaders who manage more effectively.

Leading the Development of a Community Project: What Leaders Need to Know

This session will highlight the benefits of a practice-research collaboration in order to add depth to an organization, identify best practices, and evaluate for impact. Participants will be engaged to consider: Who will they reach with their project? How can they measure program effectiveness? What steps are needed to monitor project progress? How will the project's successes be maintained? Presenters will share different approaches that participants can use to translate research findings into practice in an effort to impact their communities.
